Applicants need to fill up 'Part A' of the application form online and submit the completed form before the application deadline specified above. If the applicant is sponsored by their institution, then 'Part B' must be completed and submitted along with online application form. 'Part B' of the form must be completed by the sponsoring authority responsible for granting the applicant leave for his/her career development.

Decisions regarding admission to the programme will be communicated to the applicants and sponsoring institutions within 15 days of the application submission deadline. Selected candidates or the sponsoring institutions will then need to pay the required fees before the afore mentioned last date for payment of fees (refer the table on programme duration, important deadlines and fees).

Foreign participants are advised to complete all visa formalities on their own, well in time. Requests for extension of time to join the programme will not be entertained.

EDUCATIONAL APPROACH

The FDP relies on a variety of learning settings like classrooms, workshops and seminars, and a participatory approach to learning. There is an emphasis on the case method of teaching and learning. Other educational methods such as lectures, group-exercises, management games, and presentations are also used. Computers, statistical tools and audio-visual aids complement these methods. Participants are encouraged to develop insights into curriculum planning and academic administration.

The FDP requires a high level of effort from the participants in terms of individual preparation as well as working in groups. Participants will have access to the library resources and facilities with network connectivity. Participants take away more than just class-room related experiences as they explore the campus and interact with people from diverse backgrounds. Participants usually get a chance to visit industrial locations, attend research seminars, special guest lectures and participate in other extra-curricular activities. Participants are highly encouraged to take initiative towards developing their own cases or research proposals.

ACCOMMODATION AND BOARDING

The programme is fully residential and participants are required to stay in the furnished AC accommodation on campus. Almost all accommodations are single. Few may be on sharing basis. Permission to stay outside the campus is not usually granted; only under very exceptional circumstances will participants be allowed to stay outside. Participants will dine at the students' mess which offers a mix of north Indian and south Indian cuisine. While the cuisine is predominantly vegetarian, non-vegetarian food is also available three to four times a week.
